

College Purists Are Stumped Again By Old Baseball Problem

SUMMER BASEBALL ACTION FALLS FLAT AT I. A. A. MEETING

Delegates Decide Problem Is Too Big for Them. Forward Pass Retained—Basketball Formally Adopted as College Sport.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Summer baseball, the bane of college athletics, occupied the attention of the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the United States for a long time today in the meeting in the Murray Hill Hotel.

The delegates decided that it was altogether too big a proposition for them to tackle. A number of resolutions were introduced and passed, but they had no real bearing on the situation, except to pledge the colleges of the association to adhere to amateur sport.

The question of basketball was also brought up, and more progress was made in this sport. The association not only decided to elect its own basketball rules committee, but adopted the present committee on rules as its own. A movement was also set on foot to prevent colleges from playing other than educational institutions.

Forward Pass Indorsed

Nothing was done about football except to elect a new rules committee and to make known the attitude of the rules committee, which went out of office on the revision of rules. The outgoing committee expressed itself as decidedly in favor of the present use of the forward pass, and, as the organization now controls nine votes on the committee, it is certain that there will be no steps taken to abolish the play, although its use may be modified to a certain extent.

The football rules committee elected by the association was the same as last year's, with the exception of one member. The new committee will consist of Dr. H. L. Williams, Minnesota; Dr. J. A. Babbitt, Haverford; Dr. W. L.

Dudley, Vanderbilt; E. K. Hall, Dartmouth; Prof. J. T. Lees, Nebraska; Prof. C. W. Savage, Oberlin; Lieut. H. B. Hackett, West Point; Hackett the only new member, succeeding Lieut. C. D. Daly.

In his report on the football rules of last season, including a forecast as to changes which are likely for next season, Dr. Williams said:

"The forward pass is an important part of the game as now played, and, although it may be subjected to slight changes, I can say that it will not be eliminated or made a useless play."

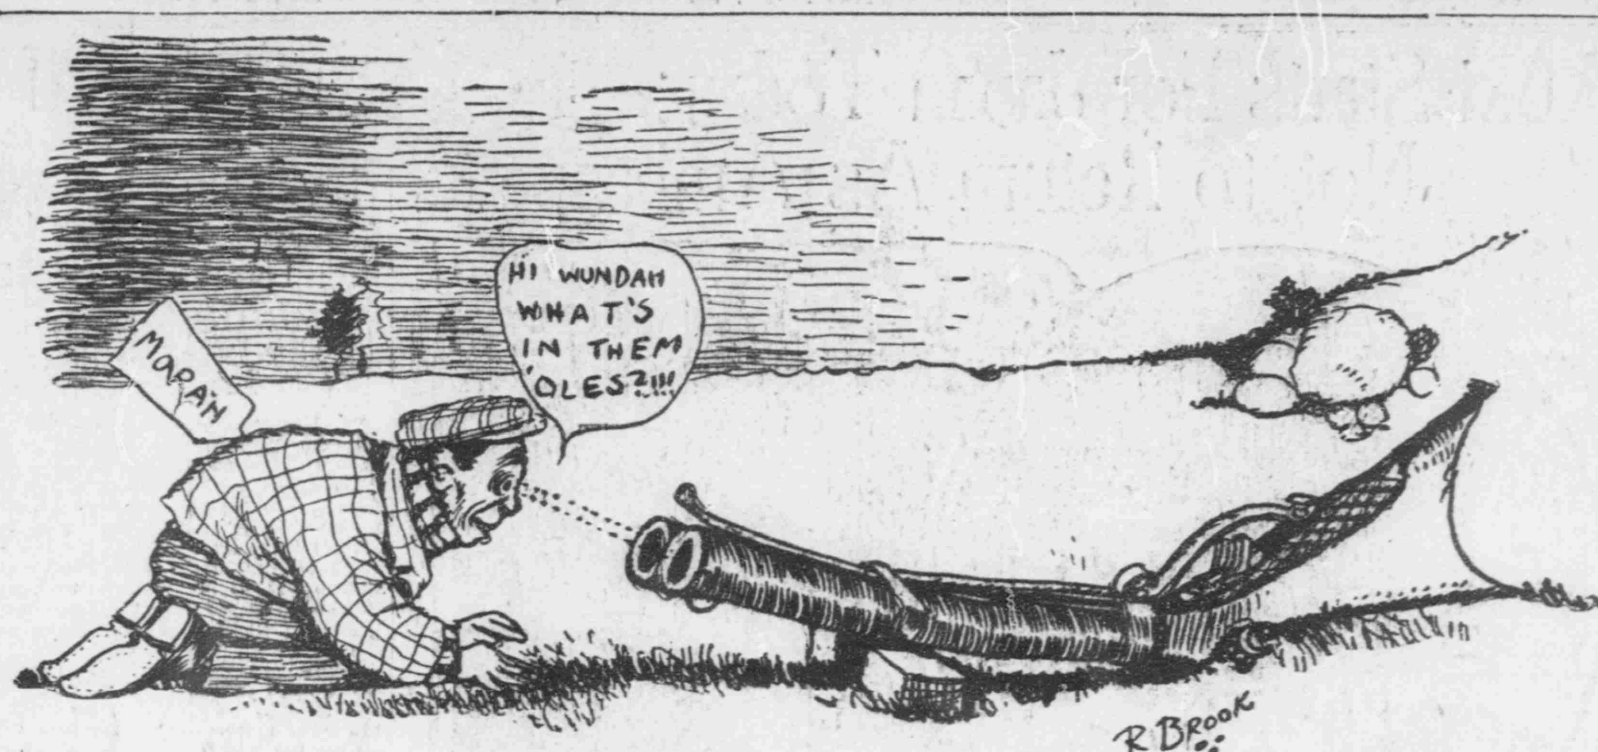

Boost for Basketball

Basketball was given a great boost when it was taken up by the convention. The executive committee reported a resolution calling on the convention to appoint a rules committee. This was passed, and the present intercollegiate committee was named, as follows: R. D. Hyatt, Yale; Ralph Morgan, Pennsylvania; H. A. Fisher, Columbia; O. DeG. Vanderbilt, Princeton; Lieutenant Stillwell, West Point; I. Anderson, Missouri; J. Appel, Williams.

The committee will hereafter act under the control of the I. C. A. A. U. A resolution was also passed to the effect that basketball be recognized and controlled as a college sport and that college teams limit their games as much as possible to teams representing institutions of learning.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Capt. Palmer E. Pierce; vice president, Prof. Peck; secretary, Prof. Bevier; treasurer, Prof. Lambert; executive committee, Prof. Nicholson, Bevier, Dudley, Stagg, Williams, and Captain Pierce.

WONDER IF HE WILL APPRECIATE THE TIP?

MUCH WAR TALK MARKS MEETING OF A. A. OWNERS

Some Secretive, But Others Tell Tales. Little Done.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—What some of the magnates termed an ante-bellum meeting and others called a most peaceful gathering inaugurated the annual meeting of the American Association of Magnates at the Auditorium Annex today.

The board of directors, composed of representatives of the St. Paul, Kansas City, Columbus, Indianapolis and Milwaukee teams, met as a prelude to the gathering today, at which the question of placing a team in Chicago and opening a war on organized baseball will be thoroughly thrashed out.

The gathering was marked by the deepest secrecy. The magnates were closeted with President O'Brien of the association, who declared that the purpose of the meeting was to consider his annual report.

Brother Mike Talks. George Tebeau, Kansas City, and Mike Cantillon of Minneapolis, however, declared that the scheme of placing a team in Chicago had not been abandoned, and that the proposed deal was the subject of heated discussion by the directors.

The outcast faction, which consists of the representatives of the Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Kansas City, and Louisville teams, was trying throughout the day to win over the opposition, headed by President Bryce, Columbus. Bryce showed no signs of weakening, and it looks as if the invasion plan could be carried through only at the cost of war within the ranks of the association.

The following magnates were in attendance at the gathering: L. Lennon, St. Paul; Tom Chivington, Louisville; George Tebeau, Kansas City; Thomas Bryce, Columbus; W. R. Armour, Toledo; W. H. Watkins, Indianapolis; C. S. Haverford, Milwaukee; Mike Cantillon, Minneapolis; and President J. D. O'Brien, of the American Association.

COMMISSION FREES TWIRLER WILTSE TURNERS TO HONOR VETERAN LEADER

Also Expresses Desire That No One Interfere With Him. Rudolph Saur, Fifty Years a Gymnast, to Receive Diploma.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 28.—The National Baseball Commission today rendered a decision in the case of Player Lew D. Wiltse, who was once placed on the ineligible list for violating a contract with the Baltimore club, but who was temporarily reinstated last season and played with the Eastern League.

He is now declared to be a free agent and the desire is expressed by the commission that there be no interference with him on the part of any club under national agreement authority. Harry Pulliam, of the commission, states that he thinks any interference with the player's rights from now on should be at the peril of the rights of those interfering with him. Pulliam, who is at Nashville, Tenn., sent his expression of his views as a part of the finding.

TAD JONES WON'T PLAY PRO. BALL

Wires Flat Refusal to President of the Cubs.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—President Murphy, of the Cubs, today received a telegram message from A. D. Jones, the famous Yale athlete, which put at rest all the reports that the famous college catcher was about to enter professional baseball.

Murphy and Manager Frank Chance were much impressed with the backstop work of Jones as a collegian and when the Cubs went East last fall made overtures to sign the Yale star. When the recent story about Billy Lush suggesting Jones as a possible addition to the Cleveland team came out Murphy got busy.

Today he received this definite reply: "Middletown, Ohio, Dec. 28. 'I am pleased with the compliments and appreciate the honor that you do by offering me a position upon the world's champion Cubs, but I do not care to play professional baseball. TAD JONES.'"

NEAR ENOUGH.

In the little country court the irate jehu stood facing the motorist who had collided with his cab, and, from the steely gleam in his eye, it was seen that each held the other in supreme contempt.

"I was a-goin' quietly along the road, your honor," began cabby, when his version was called for. "When I was suddenly knocked off my seat by the car belonging to this chiffooner—"

"Chaffeur, my friend, chauffeur," corrected the counsel for the defense.

"A chiffooner, you know, is an ornamental, wooden—"

"Oh, well," interrupted the cabman, with a nod in the motorist's direction, "call him wot yer like. I dare say we're both pretty near the mark."—Exchange.

G. W. U. WORKING ON TRACK TEAM FOR BIG RELAY

Hopes to Win Two-Mile at Its Own Games.

With only four weeks left in which to get in condition for the George Washington University indoor games in Convention Hall on January 25, the athletes of Baltimore, Washington, and other Southern cities will begin this week their hardest work in the campaign of training.

After the handicap cross-country run at Brightwood on Wednesday, Captain Gill will begin to work the George Washington middle distance men in special preparation for the three-cornered two-mile relay with the University of Virginia and Johns Hopkins.

The training these men have had for the cross-country has given them plenty of strength and good physical condition, and the most important work after Wednesday will be to develop speed. The George Washington games will be the first occasion in this city in which a three-cornered two-mile relay event has been run, and as the winner of the race will practically be champion of the South for the distance nothing will be left undone to develop a blue ribbon quartet at the downtown institution.

Five One-Mile Teams.

In addition to the two-mile varsity team, George Washington will have five one-mile teams. Three of these, from the law, medicine, and pharmacy schools, will run for the championship of the university. A quartet of college freshmen will compete against a freshman team from Johns Hopkins and the varsity one-mile team will be matched with another college four, probably either from Richmond College or St. John's of Annapolis.

Scholastic Ambitions.

The Baltimore City College has challenged the Episcopal High School of Alexandria, and the latter school has in turn sent a deft to the Central High School of this city. An effort will be made to get the three fast teams from these schools in one race. They are probably the fleetest schoolboy quartets in this section, with the scholastic championship of the South going to the winner.

Entry blanks for the George Washington games were sent out last week, and may be obtained from the sporting editors of the daily papers or at Hickman & White's, Waldo's, or Spalding's. Entries will close January 10 with R. F. Fleming, 709 Fourteenth street northwest.

THE STINGER STUNG.

"I want to purchase one of those ready-to-put-up electric bell outfits," said the prospective customer to the clerk in a hardware store.

"Yes, sir," agreed the clerk. "We have a special box which contains all the apparatus ready to be attached."

"That's exactly what I want," declared the customer.

The clerk went to a shelf, took down a square box, and incidentally slipped a card into his hand. The card read:

"Bell out of order; please knock." He placed the box on the counter, but concealed the card in his hand.

"Excuse me for asking," he said to the customer, "but are you going to attach this outfit on yourself?"

"No, sir," replied the customer, firmly. "I'm going to attach it on the front door."

"Stung," muttered the clerk, and the "Bell out of order" card fell slowly to the floor.—Exchange.

CELLA IS STUNG WHEN TWO SNAPS FINISH IN RUCK

Rustle and La Soeur Fail Miserably—Woodlane Wins.

NEW ORLEANS SELECTIONS

First race—Estella C. My Love, Maria.
Second race—Peter Becker, John Dillon, Sam Hoffheimer.
Third race—Coon, Telescope, Fantastic.
Fourth race—Jacobite, Odom's entry, Juggler.
Fifth race—Hans, Albert Star, Dew of Dawn.
Sixth race—Carthage, Lancasterian, Zipango.

THREE BEST BETS.
Peter Becker, straight, second race.
Hans, straight, fifth race.
Carthage, straight, sixth race.
One best bet of the day: Hans, straight, fifth race.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 28.—It was a Waterloo for the Cella combination today on the City Park racetrack.

The money bookmaker and his friends dropped over $5,000 on the defeat of Rustle and La Soeur in the first and fourth events. These two racers belong to Louis A. Cella, and the owner figured that they were placed in soft spots, and today was the day to get the money.

In the opening event Rustle got off badly, and, although she moved up from ninth to fifth position before the field hit the head of the stretch, she could not overhaul the leaders, and could finish only fifth.

Woodlane Takes Stake.

This defeat alone cost the Western combination $10,000. In the stake event, the Planters, La Soeur was looked upon as good as in, with the principal contenders, Angelus and E. T. Shipp, scratched. The jockeys opened La Soeur at 4 to 5, but Cella and his friends waited until the odds went to even money, when they sent $15,000 to the ring. La Soeur followed the footsteps of Rustle by getting away from the post absolutely last. Notter rushed her up with the first two, Woodlane and Alsatian, but when it came down to the final drive the extra effort killed her speed, and she dropped back to last place.

Woodlane, at 7 to 1, belonging to Albert Simons, was the first to break from the barrier, and she made every post a winning one, crossing the line a head in front of Barriage. The Burlew and O'Neill combination, when it scratched Angelus, added La Jeunesse and Firmament. La Jeunesse managed to get up in time to annex third money.

Apache's Fourth Victory.

Apache won his fourth consecutive race when he finished in front in the opening event at 9 to 2.

George Mountain, who made his first appearance today after being laid up for two weeks, piloted the last winner, Dr. McClure, which receded from 3 to 2 to 4 to 1. Mountain held his mount in reserve until the head of the stretch, when he took over and, winning by the field as if they were dead, finishing two lengths. Doubt, at 7 to 1, finishing second, half a length in front of Flavius.

John J. Ryan and his other Cincinnati friends were not sure of McClure's ability to win, and did not play it heavily.

Summaries:

First race—Selling, two-year-olds, six furlongs. Apache, 95 (Ott), 9 to 2, won; Lew of Dawn, 107 (Woot), 1 to 1, second; Severus, 106 (McDaniel), 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Rustle, Ketchemike, Male Fletcher, Hans, Ethel Carr, Linda Lake, Truro, Setulus, Hostess Hyphen and Brown Thistle also ran.

Y. M. C. A. WINNER FROM BELVEDERE

Beats Baltimore Champion 23 to 22—High Class Teams.

In a game last night that was a nip and tuck affair from the first blow of the gong until the final whistle of the referee, the local Y. M. C. A. basketball quint took its game from the Belvederes, twice champions of Baltimore, by 23 to 22. The score zigzagged until with three seconds to play Scheurholtz was fouled and Williams caged the winning point.

The game was fast and clean. The team work of the locals has improved 100 per cent and the quint bids fair now to regain its old-time form. The playing of Williams, the locals' plucky little captain, was a feature. He was not only fast and clean, but cased the oval three times from field and once from free throw, thereby winning the game.

Jones Makes Five Goals.

A few minutes before the close of the first half Smith was taken out and May substituted in his place. The change seemed to work good, for immediately after that Jones threw three goals and made five in all.

The visitors showed the best team work of any team seen in Washington this year. The passing was of first calibre, the only fault lying in their inability to shoot. Yet this may probably have been due to the fact that they played last night for the first time in so large a hall and with side lines.

Next Saturday night the Y. M. C. A
